Finance Officer Vicki Uehling is working on the extensive audit list in preparation for next month's audit and some end of year matters. She reiterated the importance of turning in credit card claims.

DES/911 Coordinator Cliff Brophy said they had done maintenance to the generators and fixed the siren which will now go off at noon on Wednesdays. Otherwise, it will be used as a code red notice.

Justice Court Judge Jessie Connolly reported on her new and pending case numbers, which are slightly down. She went to judge school 2 weeks ago as did her clerks. She is working on their 2026 certification curriculum. OPD is not getting better. She met with MHP Sgt. Lacie Wickum and the Sheriff about Program 24/7. There is a social work management person that helps some people.

Road Supervisor Chuck Schuman has been doing maintenance, has been doing some dura patching on Melville Road and hired a new employee. The Bainter Bridge is on hold.

Clerk and Recorder Dawn Curry has been training her two new employees and has been starting to get ready to send out ballots for the city election.

Commissioner JV Moody said the commissioners have worked on issues with the parking lot at McLeod School, a structural engineer came to the courthouse, and they were waiting on a permit for the fairgrounds bleachers but the first half of the concrete is poured. They had a meeting on bridges in Park County, and meetings for the LEPC and DUI task force. They appointed a representative for the rail authority, have been working on the new Flemming Bridge and are working on a new fueling station for the airport.

Commissioner Bill Wallace went to a MACo conference, a Bridgemont meeting, a weed board meeting and has been helping the road crew.

Commissioner Melanie Roe said the senior center wants to build a building to put their new bus in, they approved the budget and waded through a lot of bureaucracy with the airport and the Forest Service.

The next meeting on November 6th will also have a safety meeting.

It was suggested that the policy committee should look into an AI policy as that will be a big thing soon.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:08 am.

Josh Sommer, Great West Engineer for the airport, called to discuss the Categorical Exclusion being requested for the addition of the airport fueling system which is a partnership between the County and the Fixed Base Operator. The FAA has several concerns regarding the placement of the new system and the Airport Layout Plan.

The Commission requested the help of a local resident to remove some beavers that are damaging a county road north of town.
